

2021 YEAR IN REVIEW

At C&S Wholesale Grocers, we have an integral role in serving our country's most important infrastructure. From our distribution centers to our offices —our teams help feed our families, our neighbors and our communities.

We demonstrate our values through a culture that embraces differences, promotes innovation and is focused on giving back. It's our passion to continuously make our communities better that fuels our efforts to:

- Keep our communities fed — that means every person, including those facing food insecurity and hunger;
- Support the health and well-being of our children; and
- Do business in a way that protects and improves the environment, so that we can all enjoy a healthy future.

In 2021, we continued our strong support of these important areas.
